Danske Bank's liability

We, the undersigned authorised signatories of the company stated above, confirm that Danske Bank A/S is authorised to pass on all transactional data about our Mastercard Corporate Card transactions and Mastercard Travel Accounts to the third party stated below. The company itself is responsible for drawing up a data processing agreement with the third party.

Data will be made available to the third party as designated by the third party and according to the agreement between the third party and Danske Bank.

We agree to

- Danske Bank not being liable for any losses arising from transmission errors, such as data being damaged, mutilated or destroyed during transmission to the third party
- Danske Bank not being liable for any losses arising from the circumstances of the third party, including but not limited to the systems, servers and networks of the third party and the fact that data may be damaged, mutilated, destroyed or subjected to unauthorised use
- Danske Bank's General Conditions applying to this business arrangement.
